

Go Batty Over Bat For Lashes

Spend Halloween With British Recording Artist, Bat For Lashes, Appearing On The Daily Fix, Wednesday October 31, 2007

What: See Bat For Lashes, the British musical sensation, on Current TV and Current.com's, "The Daily Fix," television's first music blog. "The Daily Fix" host Douglas Caballero will be interviewing Bat For Lashes singer/songwriter, Natasha Kahn on her distinct sound heard on her debut album Fur and Gold. Since its release, the album has quickly become a critic's favorite thanks to its unique sampling of marching band drums, ballet school piano, handclaps, and the harpsichord to create never-before-heard musical combinations.

This interview marks a first in Daily Fix history as Douglas does his first outside of the studio interview.

When: Wednesday, October 31, 2007 premiering on "The Daily Fix" at 9:31 a.m. EST on Current.com. Check Current.com for your local Current TV listings.

Who: "The Daily Fix," Current.com's music television blog, gives viewers a chance to learn more about their favorite artists as well as discover many new and upcoming musicians through video posts. "The Daily Fix" brings dedicated music news back to television six times a day with viewers getting 90-second doses of daily music news in a groundbreaking reporting style that utilizes MP3s from music blog aggregators, gritty user-generated video clips and cell phone camera images. Using sample-based music and concert footage shot by fans, "The Daily Fix" infuses its coverage with music and media like never before seen or heard on television.
